Asks Council to Pass Early Closing By-Law

A meeting was called by the Mayor on Friday evening to discuss the petition asking the town council to pass a by-law closing the stores at 10 o'clock Saturday evenings.

The matter was discussed and a motion passed asking the council to pass a by-law closing all business houses at 10 p.m. Saturday nights, the by-law to go into effect October 1, 1936.

Local Postmaster Again Honored

Mr. H. Morgan, Didsbury's popular postmaster was again re-elected president of the Alberta Postmasters' Association at their annual convention at Edmonton last week. He has served in this position for a number of years.

Mr. Morgan is also president of the Dominion Postmasters' Association.

Lower Passenger Fares

Becoming effective June 1, a new passenger tariff was established by Canadian Pacific Railway at a flat rate of 3c per mile for single fare. The reduction brings the fare from Didsbury to Calgary down from $1.65 to $1.45 one way and from $2.95 to $2.60 for the return trip. Round-trip tickets are good for six months. Weekend return is down from $2.10 to $1.85.

Mountain View Council Meeting

The regular meeting of Mt View Municipal Council was held at Olds on Saturday, with Reeve Saunders in the chair.

Mr. J. R. Boone, Government Weed Supervisor, discussed with the council the question of noxious weeds and urged that a weed inspector be appointed. The council appointed Mr. Floyd Ahlgren as weed inspector, his duties to commence the middle of June.

Mr. Bruce Parker appeared before the council and asked for a grant to the Didsbury Agricultural Society, which proposes putting on a fair this summer. It was decided to give a grant of $100.00 towards the fair.

It was reported that the well at the Olds Hospital was in poor condition and that possibly a new well would have to be drilled. Councillor Trimble was appointed to make arrangements with the other municipalities interested.

The question of pests was discussed and it was decided to pay a bounty of 5c for crow and magpie eggs and 2c for mature birds. It was also decided to extend the arrangements for gopher poison to the end of June.

A communication was read from the department of public works stating that the bridge one mile north of Coburn School would be replaced in the near future.

The grasshopper situation was brought before the council and it was pointed out that Townships 31-27 and the south half of 32-27 were in the areas likely to be affected. If any signs of an outbreak should occur the farmers should get in touch with the councillors or secretary-treasurer so preventive measures can be taken.

The road program was discussed and it was reported that the road crew were making good progress and that they were working in two shifts. It is the intention to grade 5 or 6 miles of road in each division, and if time allows additional grading will be done.

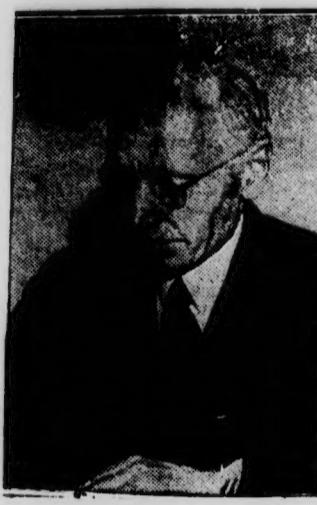

One application for old age pension was approved and two applications under the Farmers' Credit Arrangements Act were reported.

Knox United Church Anniversary Service

The Anniversary Services will be held next Sunday, June 14, and we have been very fortunate to secure the services of Rev. G. W. Kerby, D.D., Principal of Mount Royal Junior College, Calgary, as special preacher. He will have charge of the service Sunday evening at 7:30. There will also be special music by the choir. The offerings will be for the Building Fund, which shows a serious deficit. We urge all our friends to give their fullest support on this anniversary occasion.

On Monday there will be the Anniversary Supper, followed by a public meeting. The program will consist of a few musical items contributed by local and Calgary talent and an address by Rev. D. H. Telfer, M.A., B.D., of Wesley United Church, Calgary. We are confident that this will be the outstanding event of the year and we urge all our friends to avail themselves of the opportunity of sharing in the festivities.

Evangelical Church Notes

Rev. J. S. Umbreit, D.D.

The tenth annual session of the Northwest Canada Conference of the Evangelical Church will convene Wednesday afternoon June 17, at 2 p.m. with the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Rev. Umbreit who was for twenty years a missionary in Japan and later Bishop of Europe will speak at the conference Saturday evening on Japan, and Sunday at the missionary mass meeting upon "Conditions in Europe".

Rev. Umbreit is at present the editor of the Christliche Botschafer, the German weekly paper published by the Evangelical Church.

On Tuesday June 16 the conference auxiliaries will meet. Wednesday morning will be taken up with the tenth annual session of the Conference Missionary Society.

On Wednesday evening messages of welcome will be brought, Mayor Chambers from town of Didsbury; Rev. J. R. Geeson from Knox United Church; Rev. F. Vincent from M.B.C. Church and Rev. H. J. Wood from Zion Evangelical Church. Bishop E. W. Praetorius will bring the message.

On Tuesday Rev. A. M. Amacher, of Kenaston, Saskatchewan, a former Didsbury boy, will preach.

"The Source of Life" will be the subject of the sermon next Sunday morning.

Children's Day will be observed by the Sunday School next Sunday evening, when a pageant, "Youth's Consecration," will be presented.

Didsbury District W.I. Conference

There was a large and enthusiastic gathering of ladies in Knox United Church on Wednesday, June 3, when Mrs. N. Eckel, Constituency Convenor, called the constituency conference of the Didsbury District Women's Institutes to order.

After "O Canada" and reading of the Creed, Mrs. James Hughes welcomed the delegates and visitors, and Mrs. James Devolin replied. The secretary's report, given by Mrs. B. Woods, showed finances to be in a very flourishing condition.

All the institutes were represented and splendid reports were given by the following secretaries: Rugby, Mrs. James Hosegood; Lone Pine, Miss G. McLean; Mountain View, Mrs. B. St.Clair; Westcott, Mrs. Robertson, and Cremona, Mrs. Schultz, showing they were all active and doing good work.

Reports of standing committees were as follows:

League of Nations, Mrs. R. Webster.

Legislation, Mrs. Edwin Reid. Child Welfare and Public Health, Mrs. J. Hughes.

Home Economics, Mrs. E. J. Sterling.

Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. H. E. Pearson.

Handicrafts, Mrs. A. Hogg.

Education and Better Schools, Mrs. Wm. Lyons.

Canadianization and Colonization, Mrs. J. Hosegood.

Entertainment was provided by: A solo from Mrs. Hogg; instrumental by Miss Irene Spence; 'cello solo by Betty Boorman; solo by Jack Edwards; instrumental trio by Mrs. Harmer and Miss Agnes and Mr. Cranston Scott; a reading by Mrs. Rawley Finlay; solo by Mrs. R. A. Macfarlane; guitar and vocal solo by Miss Arlene Haste; recitation by Claire Youngs; a reading by Mrs. Graham, and a solo by Miss Verna Devolin.

Mrs. O. G. Sibbald, Director of District No. 3, gave a splendid address on "Progress."

Arrangements were made to hold next year's conference at Siebertville Hall.

"God Save the King" brought a most enjoyable and educational conference to a close.

The Ladies Aid of the United Church served an excellent dinner in the basement, and while afternoon tea was being served two little girls, Lorna and Evelyn McGregor delighted the audience with a tap dance.

Westerdale Council Views Roads

Westerdale Municipal Council last week made a tour of the district to view the roads and make an estimate of the work that was required to be done during the season.

At the council meeting held on Saturday afternoon at the municipal office in Didsbury the road program was thoroughly discussed. It was found that two bridges near Rugby, one near the Schneidmiller place and one on the diversion northwest of W. Davies' place, all west of Didsbury, were in poor condition, and a request will be sent to the department of public works to have them replaced.

It was decided that the grading crew would only work day shifts this season and that a number of miles of both elevated and blade-graded road will be built.

An application was made for a grant to the Didsbury Fair, but the council decided that under present conditions a grant could not be made this year.

Several cases of relief were reviewed, and the passing of pay sheets and accounts comprised the balance of business.

The League and World Security

Have the League of Nations proved a failure? Have the efforts of millions of people to put into effect the principle of collective security for the nations of the earth been abortive? Should the League, in the light of recent events, be abandoned and allowed to die? In fact, is the League already gagged, helpless and practically defunct?

These are questions which are agitating the minds of peace-loving people in all the countries of the world to-day? Many who saw the birth of the League a few years ago as an insurance policy against future conflagrations between the nations are now shaking their heads sorrowfully and are on the verge of abandoning hope. They are fearful that the nations are to revert to former practices and policies of "dog eat dog and the devil take the hindmost."

It is pointed out by these pessimists that to date the League has two apparent failures to its credit, or should it be said, to its discredit? They refer to the inactivity of the League when Japan two or three years ago was allowed to launch unhindered an aggressive campaign to bring Chinese territory under control—a process which is still being carried on, and more recently the failure of the League's attempt to stem the victorious march of Mussolini's troops into Ethiopia, by the application of economic sanctions.

It is true that Mussolini appears to have achieved his immediate objective and not only conquered Ethiopia, but has also annexed the country as an adjunct to the Italian crown, despite the efforts of those countries which remained in the League to prevent Italy from gathering the fruits of her lawless enterprise.

The fact, however, should not be overlooked that while Italy has so far succeeded in her ambitious program of conquest in Africa, the nations have not yet withdrawn sanctions against her and that by the continued application of this form of pressure it is still possible to force the victor to disgorge, if not all, at least a portion of the spoils of an illegal war.

In other words the flouted members of the League still have it within their power to demonstrate to Mussolini that international lawlessness does not pay. All that is needed, as pointed out recently by the Winnipeg Tribune is decisiveness. "The members of the League," said the Tribune, "can, by showing a little courage and determination at this juncture make it more of a living and vital force than it has ever been," but this newspaper adds, "unless they show some courage and determination in the present circumstances the League of Nations and collective security will vanish like the snows of yesteryear."

The Tribune further points out that Mussolini after all has only won the first race and "is still racing against time in the application of the economic sanctions which are slowly but surely strangling Italy into submission. He cannot win that race unless the League members weaken and allow him to escape from the inexorable pressure."

There are very cogent reasons why wavering faith in the League should be restored. One of them is the urgent desire of the great masses of the people in the majority of the countries of the world for peace and security, so essential if economic recovery and progress is to be made. All that is necessary is for these people to strengthen the hands of their representatives by impressing upon them this viewpoint.

Another and very potent reason is the necessity for continuance and strengthening of the League and its powers if civilization is to be preserved. There is no blinking the fact that the majority of the European nations are arming to the teeth and that in some cases at least, conquest and subjugation are unrevealed motives. If that is true, a strong League is the only hope of security from further aggressions which may well involve the entire world.

Warnings of this very grave danger have recently been uttered by some of the outstanding statesmen of several countries and they are warnings that should not go unheeded.

That such a war is not only possible but "inevitable" is the opinion of General Ludendorff of Germany who makes this very clear in his new book whose very little is significant, "The Total War". According to a commentator on this book in Les Annales de Paris, Ludendorff only admits a war which engages the existence of the entire nation—men, women and children; in other words, a war conducted without mercy, "its only aim being the total annihilation of the enemy."

Apparently a strengthened and revived League is the only hope of security the nations can expect against such "a war of frightfulness."

The Newest Light Control

Cameraman In Hollywood Uses Cellophane To Reduce Glare

Now, they're wrapping light in cellophane. Ernest Palmer, Hollywood cameraman, is credited with devising the new technique in light control.

"When natural light is being used," he explained, "it is often difficult to control its intensity. In such cases, I found it helpful to cover the windows with cellophane. Clear cellophane materially reduces glare.

"Morning sun, often too intense, is controlled by sheets of yellow cellophane. When backgrounds are shadowed, as in the afternoon, I use yellow cellophane."

Honored After Many Years

Body Of Leper Apostle Now Rests In Belgium

Father Damien, Belgium's famous "leper apostle," who spent most of his life on the leper island of Molokai, Hawaiian Islands, was buried in a crypt at Louvain, Belgium, after lying in state at the Holy Heart chapel. Thousands filed past his coffin and prayed. A monument is being erected to his memory. The body of the priest was taken to Belgium for belated recognition of his work. He died in his voluntary exile among the lepers of Kalawao, February 15, 1889, and the body was exhumed for the trip back to his homeland.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your system daily. If the bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blocks up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunken and the world looks punk.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills. Just take two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. See

Destroys Bacteria

New Device That Will Be Of Assistance In Operations

Invention of a new type of cool germ-killing rays that destroys air-floating bacteria about the patient on an operating table was announced to the American Association of Thoracic Surgery by Deryl Hart, M.D., of Duke University Medical School.

The rays come from long, slender tubes framing the light above the operating table. Their rays were selected wavelengths of ultra-violet—which kill air-borne germs in 60 seconds, but do not burn human beings.

The tubes were designed by Dr. Robert F. James and Dr. Harvey Rentschler of the Westinghouse Lamp Company.

Lancashire Man Thinks Travel With Horse Is Safest

Tom Whittam, from Blackburn, Lancashire, drove his pony and trap into London with a proud flourish, having covered the 210 miles from home in six days.

Five-year-old Dolly, the pony, did not seem so happy. The traffic and the gasoline fumes frightened her.

Mr. Whittam says he made the trip "to show that for dependability, sureness, safety, travel by horse and cart, pony and trap is still by far the best."

Must Discard Old Clocks

Los Angeles has ordered 200,000 sixty-cycle clocks to replace the present 50-cycle time keepers that will be outmoded as soon as the Boulder Dam electric system gets into operation. Otherwise the old clocks with the new 60-cycle impulse would make the citizens speed up 20 per cent faster than previously.

Author Of Peter Pan Celebrates His 76th Birthday

Sir James M. Barrie spent his 76th birthday quietly on May 10th in the famous flat where the immortal Peter Pan was born.

Callers who were not allowed to see him were assured by his Scottish housekeeper that the famous author was "Verra weel, thank ye kindly."

Sprigs of heather brought greetings to the "author who will never grow old" from his native Kirriemuir, while other friends remembered him with flowers and telegrams.

Cannot Live Abroad

Queen Of Netherlands Not Allowed To Marry Foreigner

Princess Juliana observed her 27th birthday on April 30, with all the Netherlands wondering when and if the plump, vigorous heiress to the throne would marry.

The people made no secret, in public conversations of their desire to see Juliana married. The popularity of the princess has intensified the wish for a royal wedding.

Where to find a suitable prince-consort, however, remained a difficult question.

The Netherlands constitution expressly precludes marriage of the queen to a foreign sovereign or his heir apparent, and the queen may live nowhere except in her own country.

Intensive Competition Between Weeds and Other Plants Always In Evidence

Plant competition is a natural phenomenon in which plants of the same or unrelated species growing in close proximity develop at the expense of their weaker rivals. This competition is of general occurrence in the plant kingdom both among native species under natural conditions and between crops and weeds in cultivated fields. In a recent issue of "Scientific Agriculture," T. K. Pavlychenko and J. B. Harrington of Saskatchewan University of Saskatoon give some interesting information on the subject, together with results of experiments carried out at the Weed Nursery of the University's experimental farm.

Observations over a period of several years indicate that competition between overlapping root systems takes place long before the tops of the plants begin to shade one another. In short, competition commences under the soil surface when the root systems overlap in their search for water and food, and manifests itself immediately in the retarded development of the top growth, becoming intensified by the top growth competition for light, only after shading of one plant by another has taken place.

Moisture, the predominant limiting factor in plant growth on the open plains of Western Canada, is the most important consideration in weeds versus crop competition in that area. In one of the experiments it was found that the yield of Marquis wheat was 40 per cent. lower in plots infested with wild mustard than in plots free from weeds. Plants of barley, wheat, and wild oats, grown alone in areas ten feet square, attained approximately ten times as large a growth of top and root system as plants grown in ordinary six-inch drill rows. Plants of hare's ear mustard, common wild mustard, and Russian thistle, when grown alone, produced from 100 to 1,000 times the growth they had when grown in ordinary six-inch drill rows.

In a weed-versus-cereal competition study, Hannchen barley competed much more successfully with wild oats and wild mustard than did Marquis wheat. This is due to the fact that Hannchen barley at five days after emergence usually has a larger number of seminal roots, and 22 days after emergence it develops also more crown roots than Marquis wheat. Marquis wheat in the same study competed fairly successfully with wild mustard, having a total root system 30 per cent. longer than the mustard, but was badly depressed by wild oats, the latter having more than four times as large a total root length.

Where Thanks Are Due

Aboriginal Americans Developed Some Things Now In Use

The Irish potato is not Irish. It is not even a potato.

Sea Island and Egyptian cotton, the two best varieties, were developed neither on sea islands nor in Egypt.

Down to the time of our grandmothers, the tomato, or "love-apple," was shunned as poisonous. Only the South American Indians knew what good food it was.

For these three and many other agricultural products, modern man must thank the aboriginal American, probably the first, certainly the best, primitive farmer in the world, though until recently he got little credit for it.

Money Is Picked Off Trees

They were picking $5 bills off of willow trees and cornstalks along the French Broad river near Danbridge, Tenn. The money apparently was deposited by recent high water. Business was nearly at a standstill as folks went out to hunt money. There was one unsubstantiated theory that the money might be part of $80,000 missing from a Charlotte, N.C., mail robbery.

May Celebrate Twice

Detroit Likely To Honor Both Ericson And Columbus

To conciliate the long-standing dispute as to whether Christopher Columbus or Leif Ericson was the real discoverer of America, Detroit may celebrate two anniversaries of the discovery of America within a single week this year.

If a petition presented to Mayor Frank Couzens and the council by the Norse Civic Association is approved, Detroit will celebrate, next Oct. 9, the anniversary of the discovery of America by Ericson on Oct. 9, 1000 (or thereabouts). Three days later it will celebrate the anniversary of the discovery of America, on Oct. 12, 1492, by Christopher Columbus.

Columbus Day is a well established tradition, but Leif Ericson Day would be a new one.

"Leif Ericson, the son of Eric the Red, sailed westward from Iceland with 35 men in the year 1000 A.D., and after stopping at Newfoundland proceeded to what is now the state of Massachusetts, where he remained for two years," the association's petition says. "From recent discoveries of Viking sailing vessels in Massachusetts, Runic inscriptions in Minnesota and searches of reports and maps in the Vatican galleries, there is no longer a doubt in the minds of learned professors that Leif Ericson was the discoverer of America."

Crime In United States

Records List 1,445,581 Major Crimes In 1935

Predicting violent death at the hands of murderers for 300,000 Americans, Howard Kahn, editor of the St. Paul Daily News, which initiated the police housecleaning there, said there are 150,000 murderers actually roaming freely over the country to-day.

Kahn, speaking before a luncheon group, lauded the work of federal agents in suppressing kidnapping, but pointed to the potential danger from other crime sources.

Records listed 1,445,581 major crimes in 1935. Kahn said, of which 12,000 were murders. These crimes and rackets cost each individual in the country an average of $120 yearly.

Public apathy leads Kahn's list of sore spots which encouraged this crime toll. Law enforcement is further hampered by maudlin juries, low-salaried policemen, civil service abuses, improper handling of paroles, and crime-affiliated politicians, he charged.

Mystery Mountain

Mount Waddington Has Frustrated All Attempts To Scale Its Heights

While a British expedition prepared another assault upon Mount Everest, Pacific Coast mountaineers turned their eyes to "unscalable" Mount Waddington.

Once known as "Mystery Mountain," Waddington towers highest in the Coast Range, 13,260 feet, with a sheer peak which has turned back 13 attempts to climb it and has taken one life.

William F. Dobson, president of the British Columbia Mountaineering Club, will head a 12-man party in early June. The personnel, not yet fixed, will be chosen from the finest mountaineers in Vancouver and probably will include two Sierra club climbers from San Francisco who will supplement the ice and snow technique of the Vancouver men with a highly developed knowledge of rockwork and use of pitons.

Due For Surprise

A number of bantam hens in Winnipeg will have strange chicks soon, if all goes well. In an effort to introduce the Indian chukar partridge into Manitoba, Hon. J. S. McDiarmid, provincial minister of natural resources, placed 100 chukar eggs under his hens to be hatched.

Plain From The West

B.C. Paper Refers To Position Of The Western Provinces

"The epithet 'pauper provinces,' applied by Parliament Hill to those provinces that have been seeking financial relief from Ottawa, explains in its own implied derision just why, in the eyes of eastern magnates, those provinces are 'paupers.'

How could they be anything else, even when they are endowed with the riches and variety of products of British Columbia?

We in British Columbia have just settled down to be a sort of branch office of the east.

Every yard of silk we buy, for instance, is made in an eastern factory.

The housewife in Vancouver pays from 50 cents to $5 a yard for that silk. If she were allowed to bring it in from Japan, where we have to sell our own goods in world competition, the price would be half of that.

The same principle applies to motor cars and to all major products that take high freight rates from eastern factories.

British Columbians have no objections to buying those eastern goods and paying those high prices for them if there are compensating economic factors.

But the cards are all against us. — Vancouver Sun.

The Peak Of Endurance

People In Early Middle Age Able To Stand Most

The Lancet, famous British professional medical journal, based an article on the "peak of human endurance" largely on the experiences of the three Toronto men entombed recently by a fall of rock in a Moose River, N.S., gold mine.

"The rescue shows," says The Lancet, "what men in extremity can endure and to what extent the spark of life can flicker eventually to kindle once more to steady flame."

The Lancet expresses the opinion peak endurance is probably reached at what is known as "early middle age." "Too old at 40" is probably only applicable to enterprises where carelessness is not a liability and where speed is essential.

A Sound Argument

The Canadian Federation of the Blind submits the following very sound argument: "Justification for granting pensions to the blind is much greater than that of the aged. In the majority of cases a sighted aged person had at some time during his life the opportunity of providing for old age. The blind have never had this opportunity."

An automobile will travel 43 per cent. farther at a speed of 60 miles an hour on a gallon of gasoline with clean spark plugs than with soiled or worn ones.

Keeping Brain Active

Like Other Organs It Must Have Proper Exercise

Persons who live sensibly and carefully in the first 30 years of their lifetime need have little to fear of mental diseases in later years, Dr. Bernard Sachs, former president of the New York Academy of Medicine, said. By "sensible living," Dr. Sachs said, he meant an avoidance of "the ravaging influences of alcohol, drug addiction and blood diseases."

The brain is not unlike other organs of the body. It is subject to deterioration with age as other organs are; but if it has not been abused, it stands as good a chance as any other organ to continue to function satisfactorily; and like other organs, to keep it functioning in a reasonable way is the best way to keep it going. So far as the brain is concerned, variety is indeed the spice of life. Keep the mind going but vary its occupation—change is essential."

Dr. Sachs' recipe for a healthy mind follows:

"Do not become a humdrum thinker; develop 'outside interests.'

"Take a holiday before you need it."

"Don't develop the notion that life's work has been done, that old age is coming on, and that it is best to sit down quietly and wait for the end. That sort of philosophy works out very badly and accounts for a very large number of hypochondriacs of later life."

Knew His Own Home

Donkey Proved To Court Who Was His Master

The intelligence of a donkey at Cairo saved its master from prison. Discovering that his animal had been stolen the man informed the police.

Later he saw his donkey staggering along the road under a heavy weight. Seizing the man leading it, he took him to the police station and related his story. There he was informed that he must prove ownership.

The peasant replied that he was willing to go to prison if the donkey was not able of its own accord to find its way back to his stable.

The donkey was set free on a bridge and walked straight home.

The Census of Agriculture, which is to be taken on the first day of June, is primarily for the benefit of the farming industry and if taken accurately will be of great value in the study of agricultural conditions.

It is extremely important therefore, says the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, that a complete and accurate record of agricultural operations be taken.

The report when published will be a mine of information for all those interested in the problems of the farmers of the Prairie Provinces. It is of the utmost importance that the figures contributed by each farmer shall be complete and accurate so that the best possible inventory of the leading industry will be effected.

The Census of Agriculture aims at securing accurate statistics relative to farm lands, buildings, live stock, mortgaged debt, etc., as at June 1; statistics for 1935 concerning crops, live stock products, farm expenses and products sold; statistics of incidental agricultural production, live stock, animal products, etc., on plots of less than one acre, and statistics of vacant and abandoned farms.

There is an absolute guarantee that no information given will be used otherwise than in preparing the census figures. The individual answering the questions is completely protected. All officials connected with the census are bound by an oath of secrecy and there is therefore no reason whatever why every farmer should not co-operate by supplying the census enumerators with complete and accurate information. Thoroughly effective remedial policies can only be created when facts are made available.

A farm, for census purposes, is all the land farmed by one person with or without help. It must be of one acre or more and must have produced agricultural products to the value of $50 in 1935. A man who owns a certain amount of land might rent part of it. This will be entered on the census records as two farms, the land farmed by each man being considered as a unit. On the other hand, a man renting various tracts of land from different owners will be regarded as operating one farm only, the various pieces of land constituting one unit. If, however, the tracts are in different enumeration areas or if a manager is hired to supervise a certain portion of the land, that portion will go down as a separate farm.

The farm population on June 1 will be ascertained together with the number of persons who have permanently left the farm as well as those who have come to live permanently on farms.

The information requested on the general farm schedule covers the operator, population of the farm on June 1, persons employed to do the farm work in 1935, condition of farms, the value of the farm and equipment and the amounts of mortgaged debt and liens, with the rate of interest paid, farm expenses in 1935, farm facilities in 1936, forest products produced in 1935, co-operative marketing, crop acreages in 1936, acreages and production in 1935, with information relating to crop failure, live stock on June 1, animal products raised in 1935 and whether they were consumed on the farm or sold, pure bred animals on farms, and the value of products sold off the farms in 1935.

Feats Of Fasting

A few weeks ago everybody was asking the question: how long could the entombed men at Moose River live without sustenance? The following interesting item from the "25 years ago" column of The Ottawa Journal may provide the answer in part: "A Toronto man undertook an 18-day fast for the good of his health. He was coming along splendidly up to the 16th day, when he died."

A new telecopic wagon tongue makes it possible for a farmer to hook a string of loaded wagons together without the usual hard work and mashed fingers.

Postmaster-General Elliott should be lauded "for his effort to stamp out the evil" of wholesale dismissal of postmasters. H. Morgan, of Didsbury, president of the Canadian Postmasters' Association, declared last Wednesday. In an address to the Alberta branch of the association, of which he is also provincial president, Mr. Morgan said that few postmasters had been dismissed since the present federal government took office. He charged that "500 postmasters were let out by Mr. Elliott's predecessor."—Calgary Herald.

Certificates of Proficiency Required by Provincial Law

Mechanics working on automobile engines, steam engines, radios, refrigerators and refrigerating machines, and all carrying on the trades of plumber, steamfitter, electrician, electric welder, acetylene gas welder and barber, are automatically required to have licenses under the new Provincial Act. In addition, all persons engaged in any other trade may be brought within scope of the act, providing two-thirds of the persons in that trade petition the cabinet for inclusion.

The government is empowered to make provision for examination of persons as to their proficiency and to issue certificates in proper cases.

Percheron Field Day at Olds.

First event of its kind to be staged by any branch of the Canadian Percheron Association, the Alberta Percheron Club will hold a field day at Olds on June 20, commencing at 10 a.m. As at all such field days the main attraction will be the "picnic" angle, augmented by addresses. In the neighborhood of 60 Percheron horses supplied by the agricultural school and neighboring breeders will be on hand for judging classes and lectures.

Prominent Olds Pioneer Dies.

Caudwell G. Craig, prominent and respected oldtime citizen of Olds, passed away at his home Wednesday morning last after a brief illness, at the age of 77 years.

Mr. Craig was born at Leeds, Que., where he spent his youth. He was an engineer for seven years on the Quebec Central Railway between Sherbrooke and Quebec, later moving to Compton, Que., where he engaged in the general store business. He and his family moved to Olds in September, 1907, together with another brother and later his two sons carried on the general store known as Craig and Co.

He was a prominent member of the Masonic Order, both in the east and later at Olds. He was also a staunch member of the United Church.

He is survived by three sons, Willie and Prescott at Olds, and Dr. K. L. Craig, Vancouver; also one sister, Mrs. Dr. J. D. Whyte, of Calgary. Mrs. Craig predeceased him three years ago.

Alberta Crop Report.
From Alberta Department of Agriculture.

EDMONTON, June 5, 1936 — Wheat seeding in the late districts of the north was completed a week ago. Some decrease in wheat acreage in the west-central and northern districts has resulted from the late spring, with a corresponding increase in coarse grains. Seeding of coarse grains is practically finished in the southern and central areas and south of the Peace River. In the Edmonton zone and north of the Peace about 25% of coarse grain seeding remains to be done. Summerfallow work is well underway in the south and east-central parts and in the Grande Prairie district.

Exceedingly hot dry weather was prevalent over the province the week of May 25. Fortunately the heavy rains of the previous week had provided sufficient surface-moisture in southern sections to bring crops through the hot spell in reasonably good condition, but rain is now needed from Calgary south and in eastern districts north to Lloydminster for continued normal growth. Cooler weather of the present week has afforded some relief in these areas. Recent hot weather was most beneficial to the late sections of the centre and north, very rapid growth making up to some extent for earlier delay in seeding. There is still abundance of reserve moisture in these districts. During the present week showers have occurred at scattered points, heaviest rainfall being reported from Calgary west and north to Red Deer. Only the Lethbridge section of the drier areas reports precipitation of appreciable value since the rains of May 20. Light rains are falling from Red Deer north to the Edmonton area, with cloudy conditions over a large portion of the province, as this report goes to press.

Light frosts have been reported during the past few days at a number of points, but have not been sufficiently severe to do much damage to crops. Some injury has been done to gardens.

Brief reports by districts—
Lethbridge - Cardston: Though some benefit from heavy showers on Sunday last, moisture required for all dry-land crops. Use of irrigation water has commenced.

Calgary: General conditions are good. Fairly heavy rains last weekend.

Empress: Dry conditions causing concern; some soil-drifting.

Olds: Coarse grain sowing will be finished this week; moisture conditions good.

Chinook-Youngstown: Moisture conditions only fair, grain and pasture suffering to the east; soil dry for fallowing and some drifting.

Stettler: General conditions are satisfactory, with sufficient moisture for present needs; coarse grains 80 per cent seeded.

Red Deer: Coarse grains mostly seeded; all conditions favorable.

Lloydminster: All seeding completed; little reserve moisture and rain would be welcome; slight frost night of second with some damage to gardens.

Grande Prairie: Some showers following hot weather and crop conditions very satisfactory; summerfallow well underway.

Condition of stock throughout the province continues to improve with rapid growth of grass. The cattle market has changed very little in the last fortnight. Medium grades are moving fairly well with the market for the heavier finished stock not so strong. Shipments are now being made to St. Paul and Chicago but present returns for medium and heavy cattle do not realize much profit over feeding costs. Movement of hogs is normal and the lamb market good with prices strong. An increase in hog production is evident but scarcity of feed grain has materially reduced the hog population in some areas of the north. Litter losses are not so heavy as earlier in the season. There has been an increase in colts foaled this year, especially in southern districts, and a larger number of mares are now being bred.

Calgary to Be On Air Mail Route

Edmonton is to be linked up with a Trans-Canada air mail service which will be in operation early next spring. J. A. McKinnon, M.P. for West Edmonton, stated upon his arrival from Ottawa.

"The Trans-Canada air mail route by way of Lethbridge westward will be completed this year," said the member, "and a Trans-Canada air mail service will be inaugurated in the early spring."

"There will be a north and south mail route connecting Calgary and Edmonton and extending north to Aklavik, along the Mackenzie River route."

WINNIPEG CALGARY EDMONTON YORKTON

Up in Northwestern Ontario where the game fish grow large and put up a spirited battle, the Canadian Pacific Railway has well equipped chalet-bungalows at Devil's Gap, near Kenora, and at French River for the accommodation of fishing enthusiasts from all over the continent. Arrangements can be made, too, to take care of visitors to Nipigon River, another famous resort for game fishermen.

Year by year these favored spots, unspoiled by the civilization from which they are separated by a few short hours of train travel, attract more and more visitors. The camps offer a happy combination of the joys of the great out-of-doors and the comforts of the city. At the Devil's Gap and French River Camps, the cabins are lighted electrically, cozily furnished, and have running water. Many of them have shower baths and all have screened verandahs. Efficient maid service is maintained.

Although fishing is the main attraction at the Devil's Gap Bungalow Camp, just a pleasant boat ride's distance from Kenora, other amusements are swimming right at the camp dock, a nine-hole golf course within easy walking distance, and organized excursions by motor boat or canoe over the great stretch of water. The camp will be open this year from June 26 to September 14. A special attraction this year will be the close on September 20, Old Home Week which will be staged by Kenora from July 6 to the 11th.

The French River Camp provides especially good fishing and boating. Fighting "muskies," "great northern pike," large and small mouth bass, "wall eyes," and other game fish are found in abundance. A few years ago a 55-pound "muskie" was taken there and many heavy fish are brought in each season. A picturesque nine-hole golf course is situated on Dry Pine Bay, and there is tennis, swimming, a sandy beach, and dancing at night. The surrounding country provides delightful hiking and canoe trips. The camp will open on June 20 and close on September 20.

New York's Latest Craze

Train Carries People To Country For Bicycle Riding

Those who pictured New Yorkers as incapable of being torn away from theatres and night clubs revised their opinion last winter when ski trains hauled 12,000 on a single week-end to the snow slopes of the Adirondacks.

The illusion is again shattered by the inauguration of a "bicycle train" service. On a recent Sunday the first bicycle train of the season carried 222 cycling enthusiasts to a rural district of Massachusetts, waited while they "wheeled" merrily over a 20-mile course among the violet and cowslip-sprinkled vales, and then whirled them back to the city in time for a good night's recuperation before the toils of Monday.

It was reported as a day rich in the enjoyment of nature and exercise. A seasoned, solitary outdoor student might find fault with the arrangement, since a cyclist accompanied by 221 others, noisily chattering, is not exactly alone with Nature, but 221 are considerably less than 7,000,000, and doubtless to a New Yorker a country area containing as few people as that is practically a vacuum.

As for exercises, the excursion left nothing to be desired. Any one out of training who rides a bicycle 26 miles knows he has been some place. Poundage was noticeably reduced—the purpose for which some went—muscles were toned up, and many a fine charlie horse acquired to serve as a reminder of the outing during the week to follow.

More joy to the New York outers. —Detroit News.

YOUR GARDEN

First flowers to be sown are those very hardy kinds which naturally reproduce themselves in Canada, such as Cosmos, California Poppy, Alyssum, Calendula and Candytuft. In the second group are the Zinnia, Marigold, Nasturtium, Stocks, Aster and Petunia, which do not stand serious frost, and of the tender things which must be held back until all danger of freezing is over, are the Dahlias, Cannas and Gladiolus.

As the latter are all bulbs and do not come up until a week or so after planting, they may be risked within a few days of the arrival of really warm weather.

One is well advised to save a little seed of each variety from all plantings in order to fill in inevitable "misses" caused by drought, washings or other things beyond control.

In the perennial flower bed there will also be gaps where winter-killing has occurred. These may be filled in with quick growing annuals.

Seed should not be sown too deep and plants should not be allowed to grow too close together. Very fine seed like that of the poppy and alyssum, for instance, is best mixed with a little sand and the mixture sown, otherwise the seed will not go very far and will be put in much too close together. With such small seed merely pressing into finely prepared soil will be sufficient. The general rule is to sow to a depth of three times the diameter of the seed. This will mean pressing in most flowers, except things like Castor Beans, Nasturtiums and Sweet Peas, which are large and should be covered about an inch deep. Bulbs or corms, like the Dahlia, and Gladiolus may be put down quite a piece, from four inches to a foot. Fine vegetable seed such as lettuce and carrots is merely pressed well into the soil and raked lightly over, beets buried about half an inch and beans and peas about an inch. Thinning of both flowers and vegetables is most important after the plants are up an inch or so. With flowers a good rule is to have half as much space between as the plants will be high. This will be about a foot between ordinary Marigold, Petunias and Aster, two to three feet between Cosmos and Dahlias, but only an inch or so separating tiny Alyssum, Lobelia and other edging plants. Well spaced flowers will be more sturdy and thus resist heavy wind and rain. Even the smallest vegetables such as lettuce and radish must be thinned too. An inch or so will be sufficient and that is also all the room that will be needed for carrots and beets, because when these things have developed roots an inch thick and two or three long, every other plant should be removed and used, and this proceeding followed until the whole row is used up.

British Arms Control Plan

Favors An International Agreement Regarding Manufacture And Trade

The British Government recently presented a four-point proposal for uniform international regulation of the arms traffic to the Royal Arms Commission.

It embraced a foreign office memorandum described as the result of 14 years of experience in international discussions.

The government, it was stated, considered an achievement of great value could be obtained if the principal arms manufacturing countries would agree to a convention accepting the following principles:

1. Strict national control of arms manufacture.

2. Publicity for arms produced, exported and imported.

3. Establishment of an international supervisory organ.

4. Responsibility to that organ for the accuracy of returns on manufacture and trade.

The memorandum also stated the government favored conclusion of an international agreement regarding arms manufacture and trade.

The Royal Commission has been investigating private arms manufacture.

To Improve Radio

Former Member Of Staff Of Radio Commission Offers Suggestions

A one-man radio management with an advisory board of five and 16 hours of continuous broadcasting daily, was the basis of a plan outlined before the commons committee by E. A. Weir, formerly on the staff of the Canadian Radio Commission and now connected with radio interests in Toronto.

Mr. Weir was of the opinion that without any capital expenditure by the government a much enlarged commercial and commission program activity could be brought about, utilizing and encouraging home talent, bringing in the best of the United States programs, and giving continuous radio entertainment to all parts of Canada.

While he would abolish the Canadian Radio Commission as such, Mr. Weir's plan would retain the best features of what has been built up in the way of nationalized broadcasting but also open the way for private initiative.

The Battle of New Orleans was fought more than a month after the signing of peace in the War of 1812 between England and America.

Will Carry On Research

McGill Student To Study Canadian Period History In France

Blank pages in Canada's history—particularly the period from 1713 to 1763—will be filled by a young McGill University student who will leave for France next winter.

Alice Jean Lunn, recently awarded a $1,500 Royal Society of Canada Fellowship, will carry on research in the archives of Paris and French ports in an effort to clear up some obscure points in Canadian history. Author of "War and Agriculture in Canada, 1740-1760," Miss Lunn has been awarded three scholarships at the university.

South Africa is trying to stop the rural youth migration to cities.

Extraordinary Dresses

Canter Police Place Stamp On Many Girls' Clothing

Daring young ladies of Canton who appear on the streets with bare arms may continue to do so if their garb bears the label "extraordinary dress." One hundred girls, mainly university co-eds, who sought to emulate the dress example of their western sisters, were rounded up recently by police and charged with violating the law prohibiting bare arms. They were lectured by magistrates, then permitted to go forth after a rubber stamp reading "extraordinary dress" had been applied to their clothes.

It's the Talk of the Quilting Bee

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Pineapple Pattern Is Easy to Cut

Pineapple

It's most certainly the talk of the quilting bee—this quaint Pineapple pattern! And why wouldn't it be? With nearly all the patch pieces the same width, you can cut your fabric into strips and snip off pieces as needed. Easily made, you start from the centre and sew round and round till the block is done.

In pattern 5591 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Suffered years bad headaches and Constipation!

Quick relief from FRUIT-A-TIVES
and troubles have not come back.

"For many years I suffered from severe headaches and constipation. Then I read of Fruit-a-tives and tried them. They brought quick relief. Now I am never bothered as I used to be, for I know Fruit-a-tives can always make me fit and healthy," —Mrs. P. Longeway, Guelph. Fruit-a-tives are the discovery of a famous Canadian doctor. They contain concentrated extracts of nature's fruits and herbs. They tend to induce normal function of elimination organs and tend to tone up the entire system. A fair trial of Fruit-a-tives will convince you.

FLEMING'S FOLLY— BY — LAWRENCE A. KEATING

The wiry little Irishman he addressed was pale with pain. But with the buoyancy of his race he grinned wryly. "Feel like one o' them Eygyptian mummies, Misster Flemin'. Only I guess they ain't got busted legs like I have, eh?"

Link examined the man's injuries and found that he had an arm broken three inches below the elbow, feet and legs crushed by dirt and pebbles, and a bad bruise in his side. He was not dangerously injured, however, unless internally, which could not yet be determined.

When he made sure of arrangements going forward to take the pair by wagon to his own ranch, Link for the first time noticed that the remaining workers stood around in an attitude of surly indecision. "Well, boys?"

One, bolder than the rest, stepped forward. "We don't like the way things are goin' around here," he growled. "We want our pay. We're quittin' now."

For an instant Link did not know what reply to make. Several laborers supported this with similar statements, and the remainder of the group, a dozen strong, looked belligerent.

Fleming glanced toward the scene of the accident—if it could possibly be an accident, which he strongly doubted. "I see," he said slowly. "You're all yellow. Scared to work here, just because a couple of men got hurt by something that couldn't be foreseen."

"Boys, I told McLendon to take every precaution for safety. Buster Townsend got the same instructions. Hey, Mac, isn't that so?" He saw the engineer coming toward him after personally seeing that Orliss and Jimmie Dooley were started toward the Star Loop.

McLendon nodded. "I think I've done everything a man could," he said briefly, and hurled a withering look at the quitters.

"Well, they're yellow, Mac. They want their dolls. They're going home."

"Naw, that ain't it, Fleming. We ain't scared. But—"

"But what, Ferguson? If you have anything to say, say it!"

The self-appointed leader shifted uneasily, hoping some of his fellows would speak up. But none did. "It's pay, mainly. And we been workin' long enough. We're quittin'. We want our money."

MECCA OINTMENT

Fleming regarded him quizzically. "You want your wages to take home now, is that it? You're not out to earn all you can for that wife of yours, eh? Satisfied to earn a little while she takes in washing. She's worth four of you, Ferguson, and I say it was unlucky she ever met you. You're lazy, no account; don't deserve an honest, pretty woman like you got. You never gave her a square deal yet, and if Mac hadn't stopped all liquor out here you'd be drunk same as you are at Rawhide more'n half the time!"

He spat disgustedly. "Your type is a quitter anyhow. You're no good to anybody, especially your wife and yourself. All right, you don't quit here. You're fired!"

The charges Link made were true, as every man listening knew full well. Yet he would not have uttered them had not his anger been aroused, had he not needed a bold stroke. He knew at a glance that Ferguson was the chief trouble-maker here, and perhaps was responsible for this sudden strike. Link advanced on the man. "Get out before I knock you down!"

The fellow retreated to safety. "I want my wages!" he whined.

Fleming plunged a hand into his trousers pocket and drew out several bills. "How much, Mac?"

"Twelve dollars an' forty cents," supplied Ferguson.

"All right. Never mind lookin' it up. Here," and Link tossed over the change. "I'm glad to get rid of you so cheap. Now clear off this property before I knock you off!" he snapped.

But now he had received his money, Ferguson seemed reluctant to leave. He halted a safe distance and turned. "Say, Mr. Fleming—"

"Get out! And don't come back! Now, boys, what's the trouble? Worried I'm not going to pay up? Or are you a gang of good-for-nothings like Ferguson, so when you have a few dollars coming you want to scoot to town and guzzle it down in whisky?"

Stated this way, they were uncertain. "Wal," said a red-nosed man, staring down at his broken and dirt-rimmed finger nails. "I don't mind workin' another day or two for yuh, Link. That is, if I'm gonna get cash when it's over."

"Saw what I gave Ferguson?"

"Yeah." "There'll be more where that came from. I've kept my steers free just to take care of you hombres, and I'm selling 'em tomorrow. That means cash at least before sunset. Ought to satisfy the crowd of you."

"But say," objected a grizzled individual who wore the habiliments of a miner, "we need twice as many guys workin' here!"

There was some truth in this. Fleming frowned and fingered his chin, glancing at McLendon. He could not think where it might be possible to get more men with the whole of Boone County hostile to his project. "Boys, we're nearly to the end of this job. I'll pay double for overtime, so there's a good chance for you to make some real money!"

"And cash when?" persisted another individual. "Double time's no good until we get it!"

"You'll get it. Cash up to date tomorrow. I don't mean the next day nor next week. Tomorrow! That's definite I reckon? Now," he demanded, eyeing the crowd before him, "how about it? Who's quittin' and who's workin'?"

"I'm quittin'."

"Me too." Two men stepped forward. "I've had enough o' yore damned quarry, Fleming," one declared with unexpected spirit. "But mainly I don't expect yuh'll ever pay a cent. Once this dam's goin' yuh'll forget every man jack of us."

No hint of inner troubledness showed as he looked at the remaining crowd of workers who with Buster, McLendon, and the man driving the injured pair to the Star Loop, comprised the staff. "Anybody else?"

For answer three shuffled away and picked up their tools. After some indecision and considerable growling, others followed suit. Nearly 24 men were again on the job.

Link took McLendon aside. "I sure appreciate you doin' your best, Mac. And the fact that Helen and I owe you two months' pay and never heard a word about it since the day you came."

The other stirred uneasily. "I know you're a square shooter, Fleming."

The cost of the mustard in any recipe is so small, why take chances by using anything but the best? When you use KEEN'S D.S.F. MUSTARD you KNOW you are getting ALL pure mustard—full of flavour and zest.

Made from seed grown in the Fens of England. Shells or hulls are removed and only the inner part of the seed is used. Superfine grinding brings out the full mustard flavour.

He paused. "Somebody around here spreads dissatisfaction among the men. They keep growling and complaining. This work is no harder than any other, but they keep worrying that you won't find the money to pay them."

Link looked troubled. "How about Buster Townsend?"

"Townsend? What do you mean? He tries to make them work."

"Ever see him wearing leather cuffs with rivets formed like a fleur-de-lis?"

McLendon blinked. "Yes," he said slowly, "I think I have. I'm sure of it. Why?"

"Thanks, Mac. I'll have a talk with Buster." Turning away, Link found his ranch foreman squinting at blueprints. No one was within earshot.

"Where's that pair of cuffs you used to wear?" he inquired casually, glancing at the brawny arms with sleeves rolled up.

"Huh? Oh, them! Darned if I know. Yes," Townsend added quickly. "I guess one of 'em's in the shack up above. I lost the other a couple days ago. Why?"

For answer his employer whipped out his forty-five. Its muzzle pressed hard against the foreman's stomach. "You held up Helen Hamilton yesterday, just outside Rawhide!" he charged angrily. "Where's the money? Buster, I never thought you'd doublecross me!"

Astonishment flooded the other's leathery countenance and he glanced down at the threatening sixgun. But there was no trace of fear showing, only hurt plainly evident.

"You're wrong, Link," he declared. "I pulled no holdup yesterday or any other time. I've worked for yuh faithful as any man could. Yes, and last Fall I got shot for yuh, too."

There was a moment of tense silence. "Mac!" called Fleming over his shoulder. The engineer approached, his eyes wide in wonder at the gun covering Townsend. "Was Buster working here yesterday morning, or was he gone for awhile?"

The man hesitated while he searched the faces of the pair standing tense before him. "Why, sure he was here! Buster and I were wrangling over some blueprints. In fact, he proved that I'd miscalculated five-eighths of an inch. You see, on those supports for the—"

"Hmm. All right." Abruptly he holstered his gun. He waited for the engineer to leave, a wondering expression on his sober face. Then Fleming extended his hand. "I'm sorry, Buster. Reckon I'm all tensed up about this thing. But how did your cuffs get on the holdup? Helen yanked one off, and I'm plumb sure it belonged to you!"

"Say! Ames Stephen came out here and give me a reg'lar third degree, but I didn't know what the heck it was about!" Comprehension dawned in Buster's honest eyes; then a wan grin covered his face. "Link, I wouldn't do a job like that. I missed the cuffs and thought they

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

Mr. CAFFEINE-NERVES . . . he's ushered out!

TO BE SURE, many people find that tea and coffee do not disagree with them. But others—and there are lots of them—cannot and should not drink them at all. You may be one of these—without realizing it. The caffeine found in both tea and coffee may be working night and day to rob you of sleep, upset your digestion, or undermine your nervous system.

If you suspect that tea and coffee do not agree with you . . . try Postum instead for 30 days. It is simply whole wheat and bran roasted and slightly sweetened. It is a delicious drink, and contains nothing that can possibly harm you.
